If you want to get more involved...

If the problem of domestic violence touches your heart and you want to do even more to make a difference, here are some suggestions:

- Wear a purple ribbon to show you care.
- Volunteer or donate money to your local domestic violence program.
- Encourage your workplace to "adopt" a local domestic violence program by donating money and allowing employees time off to volunteer.
- Your voice counts with your elected officials. Tell them your concerns and don't forget to vote.
- Recognize Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Attend an awareness event that has already been planned or organize your own event. Contact your local domestic violence program for more information or visit www.vadv.org for a statewide calendar of events.
- Write a letter to the editor of your local paper describing the problem of domestic violence in your community and offering suggestions for how people can become part of the solution.
- Call 1-800-838-8238 and ask for free static cling hotline stickers. Post them in every public bathroom you visit from now on. (Get permission first!)
